give our guests the option to enjoy the game and still fill their day. Nine holes addresses the issue of time."

Waikoloa Beach Resort features two fabulous golf courses with unique layouts specifically designed to challenge shot-making skills while letting golfers enjoy the magnificent beauty of the Big Island: views of the majestic, often-times snow-capped Mauna Kea Mountain and the warm, tranquil Pacific Ocean.

Waikoloa Kings' Course, created by British Open champion Tom Weiskopf with design partner Jay Morrish is, appropriately, a Scottish-style layout in paradise. The 7,064-yard, par-72 track meanders in and out of ancient lava fields and features 83 strategically placed sand traps and pot bunkers along with other authentic links golf trappings such as double greens and undulating fairways.

Waikoloa's Beach Course, designed by the vaunted Robert Trent Jones, Jr., leads players to the Pacific Ocean along a breathtaking coastline to enjoy stunning views of humpback whales off shore. The holes of the spectacular 6,566-yard, par-70 course weave through strategically placed water features, 74 bunkers, and ancient lava fields down to the surf's edge.

The Waikoloa Beach Resort is situated on 1,350 acres of the stunning Kohala Coast. It offers spectacular sand beaches, two fabulous golf courses and first-class accommodations at the Hilton Waikoloa Village and the Waikoloa Beach Marriott Resort & Spa.

Waikoloa Beach Resort also features water activities, hiking trails, spas, tennis, entertainment and fine dining.

The Waikoloa Beach Resort is a popular gathering place for visitors, families, golfers and residents. It is truly a Kohala Coast oasis where guests can comfortably share in the celebration of Hawaiian culture and a relaxed lifestyle.
